COMMUNITY LETTERS

PO BOX 66 KURANDA 4872

Please note: The Kuranda Paper attempts to print all letters received. Please keep yours to the point and under 200 words. All are subject to editing. We do not publish anonymous letters or those of doubtful origin. Please ensure your correct signature, name, full street address and phone contact are submitted with your letter. Opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the Kuranda Paper. Please head the letter "Dear Kuranda Paper".

Dear Kuranda Paper,

This letter is written in the hope of making those gardeners who use chemicals to subdue weeds and pests on their property aware of the dangers of the poisons they may use.

At the end of May, my husband decided to spray weeds along our vegetable garden fence. Although having used this particular weed poison for the past 15 years, for some reason (???) he neglected to use the safety gear he normally used previously - rubber boots, overall, gloves, mask etc. The result? 32 days in Cairns Base Hospital, 30 lbs in lost weight, kidney and liver shutdown, lungs affected to the point that 48 hrs after being admitted to hospital, Doctors predicted that he only had around 10 hours to live. There is no antidote for Paraquat, the poison used.

Fortunately, due to the Doctors and nursing staff dedicated ministrations plus his tough bushie constitution, my husband survived with a lot of medication, many hours of dialysis, several units of fresh blood, and removal of extra fluid from legs etc. However, treatment was basically a matter of trial and error. We have been told that my husband is an extremely lucky man, other victims in similar circumstances had died. All from a tiny drop of liquid brushed against his lips. Weekly blood tests have revealed that the toxin is still in his body and will take several months more to leach out.

I urge those who suffer from the "it won't happen to me" syndrome to remember this letter and be diligent in their use of poisons and the required safety gear. As well as massive weight loss and downturn in health, my husband was up for a bottle of hair colour (for me) when he finally came home from hospital - and believe me, it was a very expensive brand.

Dear Kuranda Paper,

I have recently moved to Kuranda to live with my wife Terrie. I have opened an office at 5 Therwine Street. One of the main purposes of opening this office is to operate a Baha'i Information Centre on behalf of the Kuranda Baha'i Community, of which I am a member. Members of the public are welcome to drop in and read from my library whenever the Centre is open, although it is not a borrowing library or a retail outlet.

Enclosed is an invitation to weekly 'Spirit of the Forest' devotional meetings, held at the Centre every Wednesday evenings at 7 pm. The public is warmly welcome to attend and there is no cost. We read from the writings of the great religions, and participants are welcome to bring their own favorite spiritual passage to read if they wish. It is followed by general discussion if desired by the participants, and refreshments.

Sincerely, Graham Nicholson

Dear Kuranda Paper,

I have been thinking about all those wonderful people who so generously donate their time, energy, and hearts in order to ensure the Kuranda Spring Festival is a joyous experience for the rest of us - and young and old alike.

Just take the bright road signs that tell us how many weeks are left before the Spring Festival, and the dedicated person who has accepted that responsibility — all for our sakes. That is just one example of the many things being done behind the scenes so that the weekend will be a successful one.

I would therefore like to take this opportunity to extend a personal THANK YOU on behalf of Kuranda Signs for all of your hard work. It makes me feel like I would like to take part in the preparation next year.

Thank You and Good on Ya!

Dear Kuranda Paper,

There is an opportunity now available in Kuranda to start an alternate movie club, using the existing cinema facilities located in Coondoo Street. Many excellent movies from different parts of the world can be obtained in Australia, often after having won prizes at movie festivals, but they are not shown at mainstream cinemas. If there were enough local support, it would be possible to begin showing these movies at a moderate cost to club members. It would be open to the public at a slightly greater cost.

Anyone interested in forming such a club might like to contact me on 40938 311. if there is enough support an exploratory meeting will be called.

Dear Kuranda Paper,

90% voted for electoral representation at the last local election, with nearly half voting for a Kuranda Shire. There are over 700 local governments with the average population around 6000. Many are much smaller and many larger. A recent Federal Govt report supports a Council like Kuranda existing. Many Councils cooperate across local boundaries to economise on service provision. A Kuranda Council would be as viable as hundreds of other local councils. Any State MP could easily propose a Bill in the QLD Parliament to create a Kuranda Council. It is called representing your community. The present Barron River MP has chosen not to represent her community. The State MP for Cook who represents the other half of Kuranda remains silent on the matter. As for the pool, the present MP for Barron River, after 12 years of doing nothing, only decided to support the pool after it was supported in the Media by both the Independent and Liberal Candidates for Barron River at the last State Election. We are still waiting for the pool.

A better title for Wait a While, the regular Labor Lecture, could be Wait Forever, or maybe Waiting for God To , or maybe just Waiting, as 12 years is hardly a while. To live in Kuranda one needs a good sense of humour, as we have both a Council and two State MPs who seem not to want to represent us. Now we can vote again in October for another lot of professional highly paid polities. We are indeed blessed with democracy!

Farewell Kon

On Monday 23 August 2004, Kuranda lost one of its most loyal devotees. Konstandinos cavalliotis, affectionately known to most locals as "Kon the plumber", died suddenly at his home on Black Mountain Road, aged 61, after a five year battle against cancer. He leaves his wife Maria, Son and Daughter Anthony and Jasmine.

Kon was a purposeful and practical man who dedicated his life providing a solid foundation for his family through honest hard work. Born in Brisbane, he first came to Kuranda in 1981. He fell in love with it and then, choosing it as his place, and through out his 24 years here, he never lost his deep affection for the village and its people.

He passionately loved his home and his family, and was sincerely liked and admired for his good heart, his kindness and wry sense of humour. He was dependable and capable, and ran his very successful business with honesty and integrity.

Kon was a fighter in all aspects of his life, and in the two years, he bravely endured constant severe pain from treatment seemed to have been effective, but tragically, after a short period of remission, the cancer suddenly returned.

Kon died as he lived, with courage and strength.
He will be very deeply missed.

QCWA KURANDA BRANCH NEWSLETTER

If anyone had been outside a number of Kuranda kitchens early in September, they would have invited themselves in to morning tea! Our ladies were busy making and baking in preparation for the Rotary Dream Train again this year. With approx. 450 visitors, there was danger of even our stocks running out - despite the quantities provided - 30 dz scones, 40 dz biscuits, around 30 large cakes and a huge batch of yummy marshmallows (popular with both old and young). Along with the many cups of tea and coffee, plates of goodies quickly disappeared - even though the visitors had already enjoyed the great steaks, sausages etc. provided by the Rotary Cooks. A lot of work but members do enjoy participating in this now yearly event.

Down with cooking utensils and up with sewing/knitting needles this month as our handcrafters finish off craft entries for State Handcraft Finals. Knitted Tea Cosies, Bobbin Lace Fans, Beaded Necklaces, Fur Bears, Shadow Trapunto, Parchment and Quilling are some of the crafts used for our entries. Speaking of craft, Elizabethan Embroidery was the lesson in September - a pretty embroidery technique with a history dating back to the time of Elizabeth I. This month is "Christmas Cards" - with several types being taught. Why not come along and enjoy the morning with us on Wednesday October 21. Kits will be available at a small cost.

Following Division Annual Meeting last month, we congratulate our new President, Yvonne Dighton, who was selected as Far Northern Division entrant in 2004 QCWA Country Woman of the Year. Along with several other division winners, Yvonne now fronts the judges in Brisbane during the State Conference in November. Kuranda branch wishes her all the best.

The Spring Fest is almost here and our handcraft ladies have been busy cutting out lots of green leaves for the Spring Fest banner. Hopefully, the community is busy buying these leaves and placing them on the tree (outside Foodland shop) - a good cause and one worth supporting.

Kuranda QCWA Branch hopes to increase membership in the next few months. Realising that meetings held during the day can be difficult for working women, our branch will be holding day and night meetings on alternate months for a trial period. Next meeting: Wed. Oct 21, 7pm - QCWA Hall. If you would like to join this busy community group, come along and sit in with us at this meeting. For further information: Contact Secretary Sheila Wilhelm on 40937617 or Yvonne Dighton on 40937016.

Rummage Room open each Saturday 8.30am - 12 noon. Lots of interesting goodies to be had there. For Hall Bookings, contact Carol Jeanes on 40937187

KURANDA DISTRICT AQUATIC CENTRE DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

PUBLIC NOTICE

HISTORY OF CONSTRUCTION A POOL IN KURANDA, ONE PERSON'S VIEW.

1992:- Many local residents would remember groups, activities and a drive to have a pool here 12 years ago.

1994:- In the Norm Provan days, our committee now has some of the documents and enormous efforts were put in to the ground work.

1998:- I don't remember those days. I transferred here as a permanent Health and P.E. teacher with 15 years incorporating Aquatics programs into a P.E. Curriculum but here I couldn't. Our school children had to be denied any Aquatics in stroke correction and lifesaving. I teach kids, particularly Aboriginal students, community kids who cannot hear too well because of the infections from the Barron. I found any water-based activities were dangerous and only fostered the ear health problems. I also know of individuals who have unfortunately drowned in this dangerous water place. I also have small children of my own and risks lives and spend extra money [in another Shire!!], drown proofing them at Smithfield pool, as many of us do.

1999:- I approached my school,s Admin and limited numbers traveled at around $200.00 per trip with a bus to Smithfield, this heavily subsidized program was not inclusive nor was it feasible in the long term.

Talking and learning more from my community I discovered so many others of us needed the same basic values for our kids and ourselves.

2000 - 2001:- People continue to move here and I get tired of explaining to parents why we have no Aquatics program and felt guilty when individuals would stop in the street and say 'how's the pool going'. Pressure increases, when tragic events happen to teenagers who don't have enough constructive things to do. As Health teacher I developed a deeper responsibility to my kids to provide a source and place for active/safe recreation. The pool became the answer.

2002:- Father Chris Wright, and I thank him dearly for the responsibility of representing Kuranda on a shire wide, council driven Sport and Recreation Committee that looked at present and future facility needs. This valuable experience provided the springboard to access the data for establishing needs and numbers. It was here the reality showed 5,000 people and fast growing numbers, the need for a major facility/cooperative effort from our area. It also acknowledged we had been given assurances before; it was within the realms of possibility! This plan was to incorporate the years 2003 - 2008. Therefore it seemed terribly relevant to me to get a committee, become established formally before the plan was presented to Council in July 2003.
2003:- The decision was not taken lightly, needed a united front and I needed to know whether the community agreed with the idea, I had a hunch they did. From the minute we first met at the sport 'sand social club' in January and with a good attendance we were able to immediately form a committee and decided to do a petition. It gathered 1,000 signatures in 4 days, so the dream was wide spread. So we formalized through 2003 in the 14 months we have achieved:-

Petition - all areas of the community, 1,000 signatures gathered in 4 days.

User Survey - 150 completed representing 260 individuals [sample] showing 90% support for and a high usage by regular users.

Bank Accounts - this winter to become an incorporated body to be eligible for State Sport and Recreation grants, leading to A.G.M. and opening of positions.

Letters written - to all levels of government - responses from many.

Decided on Site - High School - leasing land from ED Queensland. Agreed to and confirmed by Mr Clive Dixon Regional Executive Director of Education 6/5/04.

Lesley Clark - working with school and Anna Bligh, Education Minister, added support to case for pool to Local Council. Regular visitor to meetings.

Mick Borze - with the council is funding a $6,000 feasibility study to establish and prove the acute need for a pool has visited us and made assurances to match Stage funding. Sept. feasibility still to be sighted by Kuranda community.

Private Consultants - Sinclair Knight Merz, Maris Radford, completing study by end May 2004. Needs already proven by preliminary findings, and has been to council and back to consultant for 2nd draft.

Surveys Prove - usage by all ages and equally by women and men, these factors are very important in the feasibility study as it fits strongly with the 2003-2008 Sport and Recreation Study.

Created figures - example scenarios of cost of running pool for this community have been provided and projections made about them.

Meet Monthly - at the Neighbourhood Centre on Wednesday evenings 7.00 pm to maintain momentum for the cause, moving back to Sport's and Social Club on Oct 20.

Sport and Recreation Department - application for major facilities open in November, extended from September. Council pressed by committee and Dr Clark to get on it.

Commitment

People have forgotten the language of commitment. They don't know the beauties, the joys dedication. To be committed means to be involved, to be ready to go to the very extreme of some experience. If it appeals to you, if it convinces you then you have to be ready to go wherever it leads you - to the unknown, to the uncharted. Yes, there are many fears and there are many problems to be faced and many challenges to be accepted, but this is how one grows one matures.

If someone in your family has a drinking problem, you can see what it is doing to them. But can you see what it is doing to you?

A Thought for October

This month we turn to St Luke's Gospel Chapter 16 and read from verse 1 to 13

In this month's reading, Jesus asks that we invest the same energy in our relationship with God that we invest in our personal affairs. Jesus often outraged his listeners. He would say things that seemed to fly in the teeth of all reality, and advocate things that seemed to offend all their ideas of religious propriety. Jesus was determined to say something so startling that it would penetrate the layers of resistance waiting to block it.

This story is a first-class example. All over Galilee there were great estates run by a manager, -- often, but not always, a Greek. The manager was very powerful and in a position of great trust. Therefore, when one was found to be fiddling with the books it was very serious indeed.

Jesus' story is of one such manager. The story may well have been based on a real incident known to his listeners. The master asks for the accounts, and the manager is caught red-handed. But he is resourceful. He rushes around doing deals with his master's customers, deals that will benefit them and therefore make them kindly disposed to him when he comes looking for a job. Thus he survives after being fired. Up to that point it is just an interesting story on human ingenuity. But then Jesus says, "the master commended the dishonest manager because he had acted shrewdly." The listening crowd must have gasped. Normally the manager would end up in prison. But, as always, Jesus is portraying the nature of God, and applying the attitudes and values of the kingdom of God. What is the most important issue here when we look from God's point of view?

Here is a man faced with a serious situation. Instead of remaining passive he puts every ounce of his intelligence and ingenuity and energy into dealing with the crisis. Jesus now asks us to

The causes of religious strife will be permanently removed, economic barriers and restriction will be completely abolished, and the inordinate distinction between classes will be obliterated. Destitution on the one hand, and gross accumulation of ownership on the other, will disappear. The enormous energy dissipated and wasted on war, whether economic or political, will be consecrated to such ends as will extend the range of human inventions and technical development, to the increase of the productivity of mankind, to the extermination of disease, to the extension of scientific research, to the raising of the standard of physical health, and to the furtherance of any other agency that can stimulate the intellectual, the moral, and spiritual life of the entire human race.

apply these standards to our spiritual lives, to our relationship with God. Jesus asks that we invest in our spiritual journey those things we invest in the other parts of our life journey. Think of the energy we put into our financial affairs, into our quest for promotion in an organization, into the upbringing of our children. What Jesus is demanding is that we make that investment in spiritual things.

Jesus asks that we invest the same energy in our relationship with God that we invest in our personal affairs.

the servant of Justice, whose life is sustained by its universal recognition of one God and by its allegiance to one common Revelation — such is the goal towards which humanity, impelled by the unifying forces of life, is moving.

Baha'u'llah's message is one of hope, of love, of practical reconstruction. Today we reap the appalling results of our forebears' rejection of His divine call; but today there are new rulers, new people, who perchance may hear and avoid or mitigate the severity of impending catastrophe. It is with this hope and believing it to be its sacred duty, that the Universal House of Justice, the international governing body of the Bah'i Faith, proclaims again, through publication of these selected passages, the essence of that mighty call of a century ago. In the same hope and belief that Baha' is through the world will do their utmost during this centenary period to bring to the attention of their fellow-men the redeeming fact of this new outpouring of divine guidance and love. We believe they will not labour in vain. Haifa, 1967

POSITIVE THINKING

Some may think that a 'positive thinker' walks around with a big grin on his/her face all day long and no matter what happens everything is just great. Perhaps he/she will say, just keep smiling. However, positive thinking is an inner matter, it is a mental attitude. It is a way of looking at life and everything around you without blaming others. Positive thinking is a way of dealing with problems and situations by taking responsibility for your own actions. Life is no longer a problem, instead life becomes an enjoyable challenge. Positive thinking teaches us to act instead of only reacting towards another. It teaches us to look at ourselves and go deep within our being to find solutions instead of accusing or blaming others. This is a mature attitude anything else is immature. Everything happens for a reason.

Member for Barron River, Dr Lesley Clark

The Cairns Education Renewal Project to plan for the future of education in our region has generated a good deal of discussion in the community. Three projects have emerged in the Barron River electorate as a result of community consultation.

1. The relocation of the Kuranda Primary School to a new location adjacent to the Kuranda State High School to provide Prep to Year 12 College.
2. A dedicated middle school (Years 6-9) at Redlynch to provide an integrated Prep to Year 9 learning environment.
3. A new senior campus (Years 10-12) of the Smithfield State High School to be located adjacent to James Cook University with the existing Smithfield campus re-oriented as a middle school (Years 6-9) and possibly, over time, a Prep to Year 9 campus.

The Kuranda proposal was the result of extensive localized consultation with members of both the indigenous and non indigenous community. Although there was not unanimous support for the proposal it did receive clear majority support. The present primary school facilities are regarded as old, overcrowded and in need of major maintenance. Relocation would also allow the community to take advantage of State education and training reforms, especially those relating to the early, middle and senior phases of learning.

The community proposal argues the viability of both schools would be enhanced by co-location and there would be additional benefits through the shared use of education and community facilities, such as the proposed swimming pool. Savings would also be made in having both schools share administration. Issues of concern related to transport and the impact on younger students mixing with older students.

The Kuranda proposal was further discussed at the three Reference Groups comprising of principals and P&C representatives from schools in the northern, central and southern parts of the Cairns area. The proposal received strong support from all three community reference groups and as a result there was general agreement that the proposal receive urgent attention.

The cost of a new primary school at Myola is estimated at between $3.5 and $4 million. It is proposed that the sale of the current primary school site and other surplus Education Queensland assets would fund this and other projects supported in the review.

I would like to thank Principals Llew Davies and John Baskerville and all the members of the two school P&C's who participated in the northern Reference Group meetings and who organized the local community consultation. Special thanks to John for the paper he prepared setting out the Kuranda proposal in detail.

A third newsletter will be distributed through schools after the holidays providing an update on the community consultation process. A report summarizing the review and its findings is now being prepared and will be submitted to the Education and Arts Minister, Anna Bligh, in early October for her consideration. This report will be placed on the Education Queensland website: go to www.learningplace.com.au, and then click on FND Learning Community, then Cairns School Renewal. This web site currently has a range of materials related to the Cairns Renewal project. Additional information can also be obtained from the Education Queensland Cairns and Cape District office on 4046 5222.

It is expected the Minister will seek further departmental and other advice before responding to the report later this year. The response will be communicated through the schools involved and the wider Cairns community.

I have found participation in Cairns School Renewal project a very interesting experience. I am very excited by the outcomes to date which have the potential to benefit thousands of students in the region. I believe that the Kuranda proposal is a good conclusion to a process of community discussion that started some years ago and will fulfill the vision of the members of the community who campaigned for the development of the school site at Myola.

jointly to Kuranda High School and Kuranda Envirocare for winning a $1000 prize for their entry in PlanetArk's National Tree Day for Schools. The winning project was the planting of 100 trees in the school grounds by the students on behalf of grade 2 students

A VOICE FOR KURANDA

There is no greater service than to help a community to liberate itself - Nelson Mandela

SEARCHING FOR WAYS TO GET OUR VOICE BACK

In the Cairns Post (30/8/04) there was reference to Tableland shires looking at a new model of regionalism in Australia. Particular mention was made of Atherton, Herberton and Eacham shires "sharing a range of resources."

Desley Boyle, Minister for Local Government & Planning, is quoted as saying "What we're going to look at is a new system for councils that is half-way between leaving the councils as they are now - that is, operating within their own borders - and amalgamations."

"I am not a big fan of super-councils and I'm certainly not a big fan of amalgamating a number of country shires that cover a huge amount of land. The risk of losing local representation, local involvement, is too great and I think regional arrangements may be the way to preserve the local level of service contact and yet be more financially effective and more driven towards regional decision-making."

Could this mean she is hearing our call for help to regain some sort of a voice in view of the current Mareeba Shire's councillors slamming the door shut in our faces? Hopefully, Minister Desley means bio-regional when she refers regional. This would recognise the inappropriateness of decision-making by a council in one bio-region for a totally different bio-region that happens to fall within the council border. Doesn't this sound like our situation?

PLANNING & ENVIRONMENT COURT APPEAL

In the Planning & Environment Court against Mareeba Shire Council's approval to allow a supermarket on the Original Kuranda Markets' site, the Court ruled that the developer had to go back to Council and withdraw its application for a supermarket. This means that no approval was ever given and therefore there was no court appeal to be had.

It was interesting to learn that a developer has no option to withdraw from a court appeal if it no longer wants to proceed with a development. The appellants (ourselves - members of the community, in this case) are the only ones who can cancel the appeal.

We're getting better at this every time.

Sunday 7 November After several successful stalls during the winter, we now have more than 2000 signatures on the State Petition against the Kuranda Range Highway.

On Sunday 7 November we will be meeting at 11.45am at Henry Ross lookout (half way up the range) to hand the petition over to Lesley Clarke, State member for Barron River.

Come and celebrate the spirit of the rainforest. This will be a fun family event. If you haven't already signed the petition, download one from the website www.envirocare.org.au.

Please post back petitions to POB 103 Kuranda or give them to Pam Norman at the EnviroCare nursery in Kuranda on Tuesdays or Thursdays between 10am and 2pm.

Funding for Independent Audit refused

The State Government has refused funding for an independent audit of the proposed Kuranda Range Highway. This is despite support for this proposal by several local State members of Parliament.

In order to ensure that independent expert opinion is included in our submission when environmental approvals are applied for, and to help pay for other campaigning costs, please buy a car sticker for $2. (see picture).

We need your time and/or your money (preferably both!) to help protect this special area.

THE WIND BENEATH OUR WINGS

As KURANDA EnviroCare takes off in member numbers and the range of interests and activities we undertake, we are reminded that it is people who make it so - people who care, give their time to do the work and take an interest.

What are some of the things KURANDA EnviroCare does?

- > Tree planting
- > Provide work experience for Kuranda High School students and for overseas students wishing to do voluntary work with an environmental organisation.
- > Collect seeds and propagate them in the nursery (at Pademelon Lane)
- > Pot thousands of tiny seedlings into larger pots so they can grow big enough to plant out wherever they are needed.
- > Pull weeds, brushcut, dig holes and hump buckets of water to keep thirsty trees going until it rains.
- > Talk to students in the classroom and show them how in the field.
- > Share information with other groups, friends and neighbours as well as officers of all levels of government.
- > Take on forestry projects in an effort to find the best path to living sustainably (grow trees, cut them down, use them in a million ways and grow more trees).
- > Lobby government for development that harmonises with the natural environment.
- > Participate in regional and shire-wide planning seeking balance between residential / industrial development and the natural environment.
- > Develop projects aimed to enhance the environment and protect wildlife habitat. Write funding submissions. Win some, lose some.
- > Administer the organisation so that there are jobs for everyone to do and the resources needed to do them.
- > Meet all our legal and funded obligations.

These things take commitment, energy, the guts to take on the challenge and lots and lots of willing, life-loving people. Luckily, KURANDA EnviroCare has all this. This is the wind beneath our wings.

WORKING BEE CALENDAR

We start at 8am, finish at 9am—EVERY SATURDAY. Be at the Envirocare nursery by 7.45am to follow Jax to the site or go direct and keep an eye out for the Envirocare signs. Call 4093 8834 to confirm details if in doubt.

2 October: The Kuranda Spring Festival—see you there!

9 October: John & Linda Stewart, Jarawee Road, Fairyland (Myola)

16 October: Simone & Roy Gorry, Myola fence line maintenance (Japanese students tree planting back in March)

23 October: Big Sands maintenance.

30 October: Margo & Kevin Priestly, Barron Falls Road. Planting along Jumrum Creek.

These working bees are fun times, good for the mind, good for the body and good for the environment. You'll learn about Kuranda and make friends.

CASSOWARY ACTION GROUP

Volunteers are needed to help with placing and removing road-side signs to warn drivers to take care because Cassowaries are out and about, especially at Top of the Range estate. Call Petra Lovey on 4093 8671.

KURANDA EnviroCare has just been awarded $600 to produce road-side signs. If you are an ideas person—design or manufacture—let's hear from you, please.

We meet on the first Wednesday of every month at the Kuranda Primary School, Arara Street at 7pm. Next meeting 6 October 2004.

HEALTH & BEAUTY

HEALTH IN THE GARDEN

Most meals taste better with a bit of lettuce. Add it to just about any sandwich, use it in wraps or have a green salad with any meal.

Any one can grow lettuce, even if you don't have a garden, especially the loose leaf lettuce that you plant in spring and pick leaf by leaf throughout the year.

The main thing to remember with lettuce is to water and feed it. If you don't water and feed it, it will turn bitter and go to seed. So plant it somewhere, where you won't forget it.

Lettuce can be planted at any time of the year; just choose winter or summer varieties. Lettuce won't grow in cold weather and will turn to seed when the weather warms up.

Lettuce seeds may not germinate if the temperature is more than 30 degrees Celsius, so in hot weather plant seedlings or wait until it's cooler. Alternatively, you can spread the seeds on wet blotting paper. And keep them in a plastic bag in the fridge for two to three days. Then scrape them carefully into the soil, cover and keep moist.

Seedlings will emerge six to ten days after you plant the seeds. With lots of food and water, you will have your first crop in six to ten weeks.

Lettuce seeds can be either sown in a pot and the seedlings transplanted, or scattered in place and the seedlings you don't want can be thinned out.

In hot weather it's best to sow them where they are to be grown, as transplanting them will make them bitter. If you do transplant them in hot weather, cut the tops off the lettuce to reduce that happening.

Keep lettuce seedlings mulched. Water them every second day, or every day if it is hot - preferably in the evening, as hot, wet lettuce can rot. Feed your lettuce seedlings every week with liquid fertilizer.

One Styrofoam box filled with lettuce will give you enough lettuce for 4 servings a week.

Fill the box with compost or Potting mix. Make sure there is holes in the bottom, otherwise the box will fill with water and the lettuce roots will rot.

Choose a non-hearting lettuce variety like Cos so you can pick a few leaves whenever you want. Plant seedlings about a hand span apart. Give them a little diluted manure once a week and water them everyday.

There are dozens of lettuce varieties available. In Australia we can grow red and green mignonette lettuces all year round. They are small and sweet and take both frost and extreme heat. Cos is another all year round variety.

Creepy crawlies love lettuce. They'll crawl into the outsides leaves of mature lettuce, so wash them well before eating.

Enjoy eating your lovely, fresh and organic lettuces and keep healthy on the inside as well.

If you grow your own fruit and veggies and would like to share your experiences with the Kuranda community we would love to put them in the paper.

Till next time stay happy and healthy.

Essential Oils

Essential oils are most effective and beneficial when they are inhaled or applied externally. Our sense of smell is closely linked to our emotions. When the scents of essential oils are inhaled, the body has a psychological response.

When essential oils are applied to the skin they are absorbed in the body, where they work to fight infection, detoxify, revitalize, calm and heal the body.

Uses for Essential Oils

Massage - Blend your chosen oils in a carrier oil base. The usual dilution is five drops of essential oil to every 10 ml of carrier oil.

Candle - Light a candle and wait until the wax begins to melt a little. Add one or two drops of essential oil to the warm wax. Essential oils are inflammable; so don't let them touch the wick.

Perfume - Blend two to three different oils with Jojoba oil to create your own perfume.

Spray - Fill a clean mist spray bottle with spring water. Add three to four drops of essential oil. Spray the mixture to freshen the room, to nourish the face and body or to treat animals and plants.

Jeff McMullan visits Kuranda District State School

Recognised Educational Leaders Conference Paper Presentation

Kuranda District State School has again received acclaim and recognition for its innovative approaches to Literacy and Numeracy especially in the field of indigenous education.

Recently, Mr Jeff McMullan better known as a former globe trotting television reporter on the "60 Minutes" program visited Kuranda's primary school to observe our innovative educational practices and successes.

Jeff, a passionate advocate of indigenous peoples of Australia, was in Cairns as the keynote speaker at a Literacy and Numeracy Conference in celebration of International Literacy and Numeracy Week. National organiser of International Literacy and Numeracy Week Ms Carmel Armstrong, knowing of Kuranda's rich reputation and awards in 2003, accompanied Jeff for his half day visit. He was very impressed with what he saw in our school.

On Friday 2 September our team from Kuranda (Leanne Plasto, Gill Tynan, Nicola House, and Denise Angelo) was invited to present two sessions at the Conference at the Cairns Casino.

Our first session, the most attended of the presentations on offer, shared Kuranda's innovative approach to Numeracy. This session, the session of choice for Jeff and Carmel, explained our Maths Tool Kits approach. Our team demonstrated how we maximise hands-on manipulation of concrete materials and emphasised the importance of the language element and open-ended tasks best suited to our students' learning styles.

Our second "Spotlight" session demonstrated two interactive computer based teaching programs developed in our school by Nicola House. The first is an animated CD to reinforce the learning of letters and their sounds. It is based on Gill Tynan's book "Binyi - Wuku" ("mouth work"). We've sold out of our first print run of 100 books throughout North Queensland and Carmel Armstrong wishes to order 100 more for distribution throughout Queensland.

The second demonstration highlighted one example of our school-based local-content publishing project, "Living Books" based on a story from the Torres Strait about "Henry's Toe". These books are digitally produced on interactive CD and include animation, audio and interactivity. Many include narration from members of our local community as well as graphics and text developed by our students. Jeff McMullen expressed a keenness to add his voice to be a character in Henry's Toe as a helicopter pilot.

During his Keynote Conference Address Jeff paid particular tribute to the work of some of our local schools, in particular Yarrabah, Cairns West and Kuranda in the field of indigenous education.

Jeff also supported the building of salt-water swimming pools as excellent community projects offering significant social, educational and health benefits particularly to our school aged children. He is currently working in connection with the Fred Hollows Foundation and Ian Thorpe to have pools built in indigenous communities around the Northern Territory and spoke in support of Kuranda's efforts to achieve a salt-water pool in connection with our schools. Upon his return to Sydney, Jeff immediately forwarded to us articles on the benefits of such pools. One research paper in particular is written by former Australian of the Year, Professor Fiona Stanley.

Mr Jeff McMullen and Kuranda Principal Llew Davies reflect on Kuranda's presentations at the Cairns International Literacy and Numeracy Week Conference.

REMEMBERING MONA MONA

Students from Kuranda State High School's senior Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies class are currently completing a Local Area Case Study investigating life on Mona Mona Mission.

As part of their investigations they recently hosted a morning tea for the elders. While at the school elders shared many stories of Mona Mona Mission with the students.

Students will now take the stories they heard and create a Photographic Exhibition, "Remembering Mona Mona" which will be launched later in the term.

It is wonderful to see the interactions between students and the elders. The student's commitment to the project and their efforts in recording an important part of their history and culture has been outstanding.

Left: Djabugay Elder Aunty Enid Boyle telling her stories of Mona Mona to one of the Senior students. Above: Community Elders who participated in "Remembering Mona Mona."

The Kuranda Spring Festival Committee wishes to Thank the Kuranda Paper for it's wonderful support of the Spring Festival, not least for over $1000; of free advertisements. Good on you, Team.

Best Decorated Bike & Scooter Competition

Saturday 2nd October -

Grand Parade

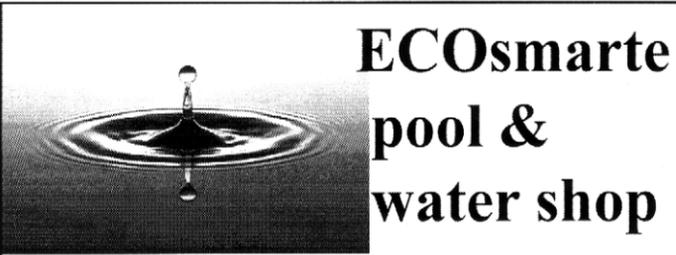

STOP PRESS

Hey Kids & their parents!

We have had feedback that there should be minimal assistance from parents/adults when the kids are decorating their bicycles and scooters for the parade as it's not fair in the competition. A tricky topic that's for sure, but the Spring Festival Committee would hope that this event could bring parents and their kids together for some quality time coming up with ideas and sharing the creation of some super entries. Further there is the opportunity for quite a lot of pizzazz in the parade with creative bike entries. Finally it is very difficult for young children to be involved with the bicycle competition if they do not have assistance from an adult. We therefore would like to encourage adults/parents to be involved with their children's entry in this event and our judges will do their best to consider parental involvement when making their final decisions. Cheers from the Kuranda Spring Festival Committee.

Stars out for Full Moon at Red Castle

ONCE the medieval fortress of Welsh princes, Powis Castle will be home again to intrigue and legend.

The red castle, near Welshpool, will play host to the first performance of its kind within its world-famous grounds thanks to the creative imagination of international casting director and producer Jane Quinn and her storyteller husband Michael.

The couple, who moved to the area last year, have amassed stars of Welsh stage and music to perform as well as the talents of former Queen lead guitarist Brian May.

May has composed the music for the two-hour show, called 'Full Moon at the Red Castle', which will be performed on Saturday July 31 in the castle courtyard and ballroom.

Report by
SARAH HART

The aim of the show is to explore the rich history, folklore and legend of the area and bring them alive in theatre and music. The actors will perform in both English and Welsh.

"Battles have been going on in the area since the Iron Age and to a certain extent it's been the battle between tongues," says Mr Quinn who is also a linguistics specialist and anthropologist.

Other performers include Welsh-speaking former RSC actor Sion Probert, Welsh actress Siwan Morris, famous Welsh harpist Margaret Harris, her actor/musician husband Phil Harris and Welshpool actor Peter Halliday.

Mr and Mrs Quinn were so impressed by the formidable castle after moving to the area that they were inspired to create a production especially for it.

"Powis Castle has always been dear to Michael's family. My father-in-law and mother-in-law both used to work there," explains Mrs Quinn who hopes to take the show on a tour of Wales.

Mrs Quinn, who has worked for the stage, film and television for 30 years, galvanised contacts and friends in the industry.

She entered showbiz in the footsteps of her father, Eric L'Epine-Smith, who worked for Warner Brothers and is credited with discovering such talents as Errol Flynn, John Mills, Richard Attenborough, Vera Lynn and Diana Dors.

● Tickets for Full Moon at the Red Castle, which cost £25 and include wine on arrival, are available from Jane Quinn on 01938 553923.

HYDROPONIC GARDENING

By Jan Coulter

It is lovely growing weather at the moment. The lettuce, herbs etc really take off. It is nice to be able to graze among the greens. I have Tomatoes everywhere; they are that rich red colour, like somebody has put colour in them. Hydroponic tomatoes taste like extra flavour has been added too. This is because they are fed the right nutrients. They are bred for flavour not durability on the supermarket shelf. Tomatoes are heavy feeders but each tomato plant would only use about 5 litres a day. You only have to feed the actual plant not the ground surrounding it. In contrast lettuce require very little nutrient strength, if they were given the same strength as tomatoes they would be very bitter. We have a fenced area for the wallabies out. Everything is at waist height, which discourages bugs, but also means you don't have to bend to attend to the plants. Ph 40930 394 or Kuranda Video.

Garden Jottings for October - by Alectura

Great growing gardeners - I hope this will become a regular column. I am open to addressing any questions readers may have concerning gardening issues although I cannot promise that I will be able to answer all of them.

Presently, I am proposing that each month, I quickly review what to plant and what to prune. I will look at a particular plant family (one native and one exotic) and then give a list of things to consider and respond to any questions.

Ornamentals - seeds or punnet: African marigold (Tagetes), Cosmos, Petunia, Portulaca, Salvia, Vinca. Start Caladiums if lifted - remember to protect as both Brush Turkey, Bettong and Bandicoot find irresistible. Gardenias should be budding up. Spray off aphids and if leaves yellowing at plant top water in a tonic of 1 teaspoon soluble fertilizer, 1 teaspoon Epsom salts [magnesium sulphate] and 1 teaspoon of iron chelates in a average 9/10 ltr water can. Remember to prune late summer for bush growth - woody cutting may then be planted directly if kept watered.

Vegetables - seeds or punnet: Aubergine (Egg Plant), Beans (Snake and climbing recommended), Chillies, Cucumber, Pumpkin, Squash, Melons - if space is at a premium look for bush (non-running) varieties, Lettuce (non-hearting), Sweet potato, Taro, Tomato, all Asian greens.

Things to consider this month:

Mulch, mulch and more mulch is the order of the day. As well as providing cool for roots and reducing evaporation, eventual breakdown enriches and conditions all types of soil. Ideally, nothing compostable, including newspaper, leaves your yard - you are throwing away an invaluable resource if it does.

Some tips on mulches and composting next month!

Check ponds and water features. To avoid mosquito breeding, stock, where possible, with native Blue-eye species (Pseudomugil) or White Cloud Mountain Minnow or, as a last resort, the humble guppy. Remember that both the minnow and guppy are not native and every care should be taken that they are not returned to creeks or rivers. Bury excess stock beside your favorite plant for a good boost.

Plant some parsley. Soak seeds in warm water overnight and start in small pots or plant directly from punnet. Consider using at edges of garden beds. You may find Italian Flat more vigorous and hardy.

Plants of the Month

Exotic: Anthuriums (Araceae)

A large genus with near 1000 species from the tropical Americas, mostly terrestrial although some epiphytic. Grown for both flower and foliage. All require moist, well drained humusy soil being careful to avoid root rot in the wet. So building up and planting in a "nest" from old tree fern or logs may help. Plant in shade/part shade avoiding sun bleach. The best known flowering type Anthurium is andraeanum and its many colourful hybrids ranging from white to deepest red with recently introduced mauves and lilacs. The smaller flowered introductions are probably easier to grow than the specialized and larger flowered forms.

The near infinite leaf forms range from the bird's nest type probably best known in A. hookeri to the glorious cream to silver veined A. crystallinum. Anthurium veitchii with its pendulous, oblong puckered strap leaves up to 1m long, known as "The King of anthuriums", and Anthurium warocqueanum, "The Queen of anthuriums", a climber with pendulous velvet leaves prominently white veined are two special beauties that will, when well grown, make your garden special.

Propagation from seed, stem cutting and off-sets.

Native: Melicope elleryana - Pink Euodia

A pretty rainforest tree, in summer bearing thick clusters of pink flowers often from bare stem. Fairly fast growing and needs some protection from frost when young. Will take short periods of waterlogging. Does not tolerate strong winds and should be constantly pruned when young to promote density. An excellent tree to attract nectar feeding birds and host to butterflies including the Ulysses (Papilio ulysses)

Propagation from seed.

Kuranda Chamber of Commerce and Tourism

The Chamber of Commerce held its first "social meeting" on the 7th September 2004 at The Kuranda Hotel Motel. This meeting was a great success with 20 members and partners attending. Those members who attended enjoyed an evening of getting to know each other and were able to discuss matters relevant to all of our businesses in a non-confrontational environment.

Our guest speaker for the night was Matt Morris. Matt is the tourism co-ordinator for the Mareeba Shire Council and our area. Matt has a refreshing insight into tourism for our unique area and brings a wealth of experience and new ideas, which will only benefit our region. Matt advised that a Tourism Industry Workshop will be held on 12th October. This will be held at Mareeba International Club and anyone who is interested in attending is most welcome. Please contact Matt at Mareeba Shire Council if you wish to attend.

The next General Meeting will be held at Billy's Bar on 5th October at 5.00pm. As members will be aware it was decided at the August meeting by a majority vote that we would hold bi-monthly general and social meetings. The reason for this being so as we could all get to know each other in a social atmosphere and bring together people who were interested in working together for the betterment of Kuranda.

All Financial Members and intending members are invited to attend our next meeting.

Young Players of the Future

On Wed. 22 Sept. we welcomed children from Ngoonbi Co-op. Soc. And we hope the introduction to the game will prove of great fun and interest to those who participated. Young players are always welcome.

We are advancing toward re-joining the wider bowls community and we start with visitors during October. October 23 will be a day of Open Mixed Bowls and October 24 will be Open Mens Fours. It's going to be a busy, busy time for our members but also exciting.

We have a new piece of equipment and our Green Keeper, Ray, is delighted with our new Greensweep. An enormous amount of work goes into the maintenance of our green and the Greensweep is a great help in keeping thatch away after mowing. We wish all Happy Bowling and everyone is welcome to join us.

If further information is required, telephone Ray on 0417 773 29; George on 4093 8057 or Eddie on 4093 7117.

Question: Why do they say Bowls is a game for older people?

Answer: When older people are not supposed to be able to bend

Down, pick up heavy things and see long distances!!!

Tales from the Visitor Information Centre

By Marié Boswarva

Just at the beginning of the village nestled in the BP Complex in Rob Veivers Drive is the tiny FRUIT & VEG shop run by Maxine & Sally. Its width is not much bigger than the average hallway in your home, but every available inch is packed with a huge variety of products for the health conscious. Breads, breads everywhere, but you won't find any of that denuded white stuff that you find a supermarket, here are breads made with Italian and Chiabatta recipes, breads without gluten and breads made especially for people with allergies. If you have heard of bread made from sprouted grains, but never tried it, now is your chance as yes, they have that too. Those of you who prefer to make you own bread from scratch will find every kind of flour, grains and seeds to accomplish it. Cakes and biscuits for the special needs of people with food intolerances are also available.

Find yourself in the village around lunchtime and want to have a healthy lunch? Pop in and have them heat up one of their home made dinners: quiches, curries, ratatouille and soups are some of the choices which are constantly changing and all made without preservatives. Needing something sweet to finish it off? Chocolates are for sale, but better yet, fruit salad made daily is available or buy some homemade jam to put on your fresh bread when you get home. For those of you are still lucky enough to be able to drink and eat milk products there is a range of bio-dynamic Mungalli items.

Of course fruit and vegie are available, many of the them organically grown and local too. Whilst you are paying for your goodies and are overcome by that last 'impulse to buy at the counter' choose one of the wonderful aromatic fresh herbs sitting in pots near the till.

Right on Coondoo Street is Korina's FOOD STORE. It is huge by comparison to the other fruit shop and its extra size makes it possible to stock a large and diverse variety of products. There is everything that either the locals or tourist catering for themselves could possible need They too, sell local products both fruit and vegetables, but even more interesting is the ability of the visitors to taste our local fresh water taken from Emerald Creek. You wouldn't find a wider range of bread-like products in any of the major stores, you can choice from the usual loaf or from gluten free bread to chappies as well as bread favoured by other cultures or as an alternative carbohydrate, try the organic pasta. The store stocks over three and a half thousand different items: there are a large range of specialities foods from other counties, smallgoods, frozen foods, sausages, meat, including kangaroo for the adventurous, and if you should inadvertently run out, frozen pet meat, soya milk and other health lines, and for that sweet indulgence - specialty ice cream.

The FOOD SHOP has taken on the role of providing a huge range of emergency articles from hardware to car bits; batteries and film; stationery and a limited range of stamps available for when the Post Office is closed; kitchenware and for impromptu parties, party needs. Should the chemist be shut the FOOD STORE stocks the biggest range of medical and baby needs you could imagine from headache and cold remedies, antiseptics and bandages to Deep Heat and condoms, only aspirin for children is unavailable. For baby needs, there are all sizes of nappies, bottles, baby food and even formulas, and where would we be without those wonderful Australian products of Eucalyptus Oil and Tea Tree Oil?

If you are at this end of the village and want a quick lunch, choose from the available hot offerings of pies or sausage rolls or have them heat up some soup. Don't feel like cooking that night - take home a whole chicken to have with your salad or vegies, and follow up with a frozen dessert. There are seeds for the gardener, toys to distract a fractious child, sock if your feet get cold or stocking for the unexpected night out.

Saturday morning is 'Locals' morning' when treats of fresh slices and hot bread are available, this is the time to take home fresh flowers for that special other or for your own pleasure.

Need something that I haven't mentioned? Go in and ask. You like me will be surprised and delighted at just what a huge range of products they have available.

Pathway to greater possibilities.

TAFE1007Kuranda

BamaBusiness

Evonne Goolagong Cawley is welcomed to Kuranda by Weka Djimbu and Kuranda Schools Indigenous Dancers.

A Dream, A Vision, An Aspiration And 100% Community Support.

Ingredients of a Wimbledon Champ.

An estimated 350 people enjoyed Community Morning Tea in Centenary Park Kuranda on the 24th of August to welcome Australia's finest female tennis player, Evonne Goolagong-Cawley who was here on a recent visit to promote her tennis program for girls aged 7-11 years, called "EGGS," Evonne Goolagong Getting Started.

Evonne Goolagong Cawley, a member of the Wiradjuri people is one of Australia's greatest sporting heroes. Evonne, a former world ranked No. 1 reached the finals of a Grand Slam singles event 18 times. She is the first Aboriginal Australian to win Wimbledon in 1971, which she went to capture again in 1980. Evonne had a very successful Tennis career winning four Australian Opens and one French Open. She was the second mother in history to win the Wimbledon title following the birth of her daughter and in 1972 was awarded an MBE and also named Australian of the Year.

Evonne received a personal tour over Djabugay Country, when she was escorted to Kuranda on the Skyrail Gondola by Uncle and Nephew duo, Willie and Billy Brim, thanks to Djabugay Tribal Aboriginal Council and Skyrail Rainforest Cableway.

After officially being welcomed by Djabugay Elder Aunty Enid Boyle, in Kuranda's Centenary Park, Emily Richards aged 3 years, presented Evonne with flowers and a traditional Bama Dillybag made by Rhonda Brim from Dalmba, a grass which grows in this area.

Weka Djimbu Dancers and dancers from Kuranda District State School performed Warrama (Welcome Dance) for Evonne at the Skyrail Terminal and again at morning tea. Evonne's face glowed as she watched the "painted up" youngsters dressed in their lap lap and grass skirts, dance.

Well known local Aboriginal singer, musician and Buma Bippera Media personality, Barry Cedric, entertained the crowds at Morning Tea with renditions of "I'm an Aborigine" and other good ol' Murri favourites.

In Evonne's personable style, she shared her story with the Kuranda crowd. Her story of growing up in the country town of Barellan NSW, one of 8 children to Kenny and Linda Goolagong. She shared her dream of winning Wimbledon (like the story she'd read about in the "Princess" magazine), her vision and aspiration to be the best tennis player that she could be. She credited much of her opportunities in tennis to the community of Barellan, who in those important early years, encouraged, nurtured, identified her talent and fundraised her rise and rise in tennis. More on Evonne's story can be found in her autobiography, "Home!" which, like her, is a sincere and personable insight into the little girl, sister, wife, mother and woman behind those Wimbledon Feats.

Mareeba and Kuranda's elders who participate in the Home and Community Care Program, shared a quick lunch at Ngoonbi Farm with Evonne before departing for the EGG'S Tennis Funday at the Bartley Park tennis court.

Community events only happen with community support. There are too many people to name individually to thank you for your involvement. However, thanks to everyone who contributed on the way to make the day truly enjoyable; all the volunteers, the deadly catering and equipment teams, Kuranda District State School, Kuranda High School Media Teacher and Students for documenting the occasion, Kuranda Rotary Club, Skyrail Rainforest Cableway, North QLD Land Council, Geo Pickers and Kuranda's Indigenous Organisations, Djabugay Tribal Aboriginal Council, KMKM Aboriginal Corporation and Ngoonbi Co-operative Society.

Evonne Goolagong – Cawley launches girls tennis program at Funday in Kuranda.

After sharing her story and a "cuppa" with the community of Kuranda at Morning Tea in Centenary Park, the former two times winner of Wimbledon, Evonne Goolagong Cawley, conducted a Tennis Funday with the girls of Kuranda District State School. Evonne was here with Tennis QLD's Kristine Benjamin, a board member of Tennis QLD who resides in Mareeba, and Janine Jenner FNQ Tennis QLD Coordinator, to launch her girl's tennis program called "EGGS."

"EGGS" is a Tennis Australia and Tennis Queensland initiative with the aim of increasing the number of young girls participating in tennis, and with an emphasis on attracting girls, in particular Indigenous girls who have never played the sport before. Girls are taught the skills of tennis as well as fundamental motor skills. The program also opens the sporting door to young girls so that they reap the rewards of regular participation in sport.

Around 45 girls aged 7-11 years from Kuranda District State School participated in the Funday. They practiced forehand and backhand strokes with Mareeba Coaches Shaun Bishop and Chloe Thomas.

Leanne Plasto, Kuranda & District State School (Head of Department) said, "the girls were enthusiastic, energetic and eggs..cited. The response from the girls was fantastic, they were patient, took their turn, listened and followed instructions really well. I was impressed by Evonne's patience with them too, and the fact that she took her time and taught everyone of them the smash and volley net strokes."

Tamera Hunter preparing to serve.

Each girl received a personally signed poster from Evonne on the day. 36 girls followed up their initial interest enrolled in the 5 week program at the Kuranda District State School which finished in the last week of Term 3. A Getting Started "Smash Tournament" will be held in Kuranda during the school holidays for "EGGS" participants from Kuranda, Mossman, Yarrabah and Mareeba, to encourage and support the girls' ongoing interest and participation in tennis.

Jane De Col, Sport & Recreation Officer based at Ngoonbi Cooperative Society said "Our partnership with Tennis QLD to facilitate and coordinate the implementation of the EGG'S Tennis Program and the "Tournament" in Kuranda, supports one of our Sport & Recreation Program objectives to develop school community links for increased participation in physical activity by youth in the community. Working with the school to introduce such a program during the long lunch breaks, enables the school to support "Active Learners" and increased opportunities for structured and supervised physical activity during school hours."

If you are interested in reading about the history of Kuranda, the library has copies of this book available for loan. It is a celebration of Kuranda and we are grateful for the work of Shep and others in ensuring it was written. Sadly, local author Shep Humston has recently passed away. God speed Shep.

New Books:

We continue to have an excellent range of new books coming through the library - pop in and have a browse and take something home.

Remember our catalogue is on line at www.library.msc.qld.gov.au

Loans and Renewals:

A reminder again that the standard loan period is four weeks, after which you need to return or renew your items. You can return through the after hours chute at any time, or go on line to update your own loans (you will need your membership number and password) or phone the library for a renewal.

- Kuranda : 40939185
- Mareeba : 40303995

Please note that items cannot be renewed more than twice or if other borrowers are waiting.

Long Overdue Charges:

Once library items have gone four weeks past their return date without being renewed they are automatically set to long overdue and an account is forwarded to the council collection agency.

ROTARY CLUB OF KURANDA INC.

The Rotary Club of Kuranda has completed a year of successful projects.

The GREAT TRAIN RIDE was as usual a huge success and great fun for the children and adults alike. Rotary Cairns North and Rotary Kuranda thank the Lions Club and the CWA for their support for this most worthy of services to the community.

The KURANDA CLASSIC TRIATHLON was won by the first woman in history to win a Triathlon overall.

Caroline Cooksley who grew up in Kuranda and still calls Kuranda Home will go down in local history for this spectacular win. Caroline then went on to compete in the Cairns Half-Ironman the following Sunday and won the female heat by a convincing 20 minutes lead over her other competitors. Congratulations

Caroline, Kuranda is very proud of you. Scott Penny the organizer of the Triathlon was extremely impressed with the Kuranda course and will repeat the Triathlon again next year with the view of it becoming a permanent event and lead up to the Half Ironman.

The BATTLE OF THE BARRON was great fun for all who competed; the Bottom Pub Pirates won the raft race and came second in the overall Battle which was won by a very enthusiastic Kuranda Food Express team. The Kuranda Primary School team were thrilled to be part of the Battle for the first time and came third in grand style. The celebrations after the event were held around the pool at the Bottom Pub with Rotary catering for all competitors, SES, and supporters with free steak burgers. Rotary Kuranda take this opportunity to thank all who took part, gave up their time, and worked very hard to make an event in their home town so much fun. Kuranda should be very proud they have such citizens with loyalty to the Village.

Next year Rotary Kuranda will be planning fund raising and events that will please all who take part and are entertained by them.

Kuranda Rotary Classic Triathlon winners Caroline Cooksley winner overall and winner of womens heat. Chris Bray winner of the mens heat

ANOTHER VICTORY! CAROLINE COOKSLEY has just returned from winning her heat in the Malaysian Half-Ironman competition. CONGRATULATIONS CAROLINE from Kuranda Rotary.

QUALITY AND INNOVATION

KURANDA SPORTS AND SOCIAL CLUB

The highlights this month were the sports days organized by Blaine Richards and Jane de Sol from Ngoonbi on Tuesday 21st and Wednesday 2nd.

Tuesday saw a good roll out for Tennis under the Evonne Goolagong Get Started scheme (EGGS). Wednesday was a mixed bag of Lawn Bowls, Bocce, Ball games on the 'oval', Table Tennis and 8 Ball. Hopefully, these events will happen more often.

We hope the 8 Ball players can resolve their problems and get back to full competition. The Bowls Club is looking forward to its big Open Day competition on October 23 and 24. Everyone is welcome to come along and enjoy the day. Relax as a spectator over lunch in the restaurant.

The AGM will have been and gone by the time you read this and we look forward to another solid year.

Notice to Motorists

Kuranda Range Road Roadworks

Earlier this year, sections of Kuranda Range Road were damaged following torrential rain. Main Roads was able to carry out emergency repairs to allow the road to be reopened to traffic with normal loading. Since then, Main Roads has been carrying out assessments to determine what long-term repairs are needed. This has taken some time, due to the challenging environment and complex nature of the solution involved. Based on expert geo-technical advice, Main Roads will soon begin repairing three road embankment slumps. Main Roads is continuing to investigate what repair works are needed on other sections of the road.

How long will the work take?
 Preliminary work will start on Monday, 13 September 2004, with programmed roadworks to start on 20 September. The work is likely to continue until early December, weather permitting. Work will be carried out from Monday to Saturday. Main Roads will avoid work on weekends when there are major festivals being held on the northern Tablelands such as the Kuranda Spring Fair.

Where will the work take place?
 The work will take place at three sites between the Henry Ross Lookout and the hairpin bend. These are located near the lookout, below the water point and at the hairpin bend.

How will traffic be impacted?
 Generally, two traffic lanes will operate. On occasions, traffic may be reduced to one lane with maximum 15 minute delays. Traffic will be reduced to 40 km per hour through the work sites. At some stage during the work, it may be necessary to close the Henry Ross Lookout at night. Prior notice will be provided. Motorists should factor delays times into their travelling plans.

Main Roads appreciates the patience shown by the community and affected industries. Main Roads acknowledges the prolonged traffic delays will impact on the community, however, the measures being taken are for the safety of motorists and therefore cannot be avoided. Main Roads urges motorists to drive carefully through the work sites and comply with the reduced speed limit, for the safety of themselves and roadworkers. As work progresses over the next several months, Main Roads will provide regular updates through the media, particularly when additional traffic restrictions are required.

Household Tips

For better adherence of coating, chill floured chicken pieces for at least an hour.

For no mess coating, place food pieces with seasoned flour in plastic bag and shake.

To prevent spatter when frying with butter or oil, use a pinch of salt then add frying agent.

If a jelly failed to set, whisk until fluffy and then fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites.

To keep longer, put garlic cloves in freezer then peel and chop before thawing.

A pinch of cornflour added before beating will produce fluffier omelettes.

Use soda water instead of plain water for lighter scones and cakes.

Add one cup of vinegar to the rinse cycle to help dissolve the alkalines in soaps and detergents.

To remove toilet ring, apply paste of borax and lemon juice to wet sides of toilet bowl and leave for two hours.

To improve pastry making, use very cold liquids and work on cold surface also chilling, then thawing pastry before rolling also helps.

To slice meat thinly for Asian dishes, partially freeze meat and then cut across the grain to required size.

Hard boiled eggs spin while raw ones do not.

Pumpkin cooked with skin on is easier to peel.

To improve Brussels sprouts, try cooking in chicken stock.

Making a Difference

The Cairns Youth Mentoring Scheme is a non-profit service to the youth of the Cairns and District. The Cairns Youth Mentoring Scheme aims to 'establish an ongoing, self-sustaining friendship for young people between the ages of 12-21, who perceive they have a need related to personal issues, education, work or achievement. The youth are calling for volunteers like you! A firm commitment of six (6) months is expected for a successful friendship to be formed. We ask that the matched pair meet a minimum of 2 hours/ fortnight doing an activity of their choice. You could spend the time with your youth fishing, taking in a movie, or hanging out at the many local attractions in the area.

Volunteers with CYMS attend a training workshop. A Kuranda specific workshop will be held on Sunday November 21 and Sunday November 28th, with weekly sessions to follow. These training workshops are free, comprehensive and filled with fun. Interviews will be held the last week of October and the first two weeks in November. Please ring Star on 4032 0945 to set up your interview.

If this sounds like something you would be interested in participating in, or a program available to support a youth you know, please feel free to contact Vicki at Kuranda Neighbourhood Centre on 4093 8933 or Star Darpel at CYMS on 4032 0945. Keep an eye on this spot for further updates about the Cairns Youth Mentoring Scheme working with the community of Kuranda.

We have had a new Junior casual commence employment. She is taking over from Becky who has gone off to University. Her name is Hannah Creswell. She is working every second Saturday and through school holidays. Welcome Hannah.

We have been carrying out an exchange of our non-fiction collection with the Mareeba Library. There is a larger history and travel section and we are about to exchange our Cooking, Health and Arts section. So come on in and find some exciting new material.

Our monthly storytelling is always popular. We have decided to change the starting time to 10.00am to fit in with childrens rest times etc. The next session is on April 7th at 10.00am so come along and enjoy.

As some people noticed my Mystery authors general list last month finished at F (People actually read the column YEH!!!) So here is part B - Mystery Authors - General

KVPP News

With Easter just around the corner, a media campaign has been organized for Townsville. It will involve both TV, print and a brochure insert in the Townsville Sun. Accommodation operators will offer a 10% discount to guests who produce the brochure and are aware of the promotion. Given our proximity to Townsville this is considered a key market for us.

Thanks to the support of a number of businesses we have been able to secure a six page Kuranda feature in the 3 publications "Welcome to Cairns", "Welcome to Port Douglas" and "Welcome to Cairns Highlands". The total distribution of the three magazines is about 380,000, so this should give the village some excellent exposure.

Kuranda was well represented at the launch of the 2006 Discover Magazine at Mareeba. The magazine is highly regarded by self drive tourists in the region and contains an excellent section on the village, supported by Kuranda businesses.

New promotional posters developed by Pira Melody are now complete and will be distributed once received from the printers.

The Kuranda component on the Tropical Tablelands Tourism website has been updated, since the launch of their new site. New images have also been incorporated.

Budget forecasts for the next financial year have been prepared and will be put forward at the next committee meeting.
